Thank you for your interest in Meadowdale Preschool. We believe that successful early childhood education helps children develop independence, self-motivation, consideration for others and their environment. Students are exposed to a wide variety of activities that allow them to explore new and challenging ideas and skills. A child's home life and their school environment should reinforce basic human values such as compassion, tolerance, and the love of learning. The guiding belief at Meadowdale Preschool is simple but powerful: each child has the capacity for greatness through the appropriate and responsible development of their gifts and talents.

Meadowdale Preschool students are fully engaged in an early childhood education program that encourages students to develop their intellectual and creative potential to the fullest. Our learning atmosphere balances work and fun, helping instill both a love and respect for learning in its multitude of forms. Teachers and staff expose students to an interactive curriculum that balances academic instruction with the introduction and reinforcement of social and emotional skills that prepare them for a successful transition to their next level of early education.

"Learning community" is more than a buzzword at Meadowdale Preschool. We have the great privilege to serve our community's children and families while each year creating a school community as unique and diverse as the individuals who compose it. Please join us as we all help small children become giant learners.
